

What Is Being Done At Winter Park

Camp Hartwick Pines, Grayling, Michigan, May 3, 1939.

Mr. O. P. Schumann, Avalanche Printing Co., Grayling, Michigan, My Dear Mr. Schumann:

I am more than pleased with your request for information pertaining to our work and progress at the Grayling Winter Sports Park.

From the many individual inquiries received from Grayling people as to what we are doing and how we are getting along, we realize how sincerely interested the citizens of the community are in this development. Their interest is welcome to us and increases our own enthusiasm in what we are trying to accomplish there.

In the future I will make a point to keep you better informed on our general progress and call to your attention interesting developments or accomplishments as they occur. Visitors are always welcome either at the Sports Park or at Camp Hartwick Pines. Any of our personnel on the job will be happy to explain the work being done or to designate a guide to show them over the development upon request.

We have just received approval of the plans for the new toboggan house and authorization to proceed with its construction. This is to be quite a pretentious structure of log and stone. It will be tee-shaped and cover an area of approximately 70 feet by 80 feet. Its design includes, in addition to the necessary take-off and conveyor facilities, toilets, observation porch, heating unit, and a large lounge with a fireplace. When completed it will be the finest building of its kind and a decided asset to this community. Our architectural foreman will begin on its construction next week. Plans of the building may be viewed in our mess hall located in the service court at the Park. Other plans of the Park are also posted there.

This building will be our first permanent structural work undertaken in the Park to date. Heretofore our efforts have been largely concentrated on clearing and shaping the land to conform to the master plan and provide proper locations and settings for the buildings and other features of the general development. This extensive ground work is necessary on a large-scale development of this type if a fine finished product is to result.

We now have the skating pond partially excavated and the surrounding swamp filled. This work and excavation of the exhibition rink will be completed as soon as the ground water level lowers. The toboggan slide fill is well along towards completion while the large fill beside the skating pond, providing the location for the main building of the Park, is substantially completed. Service roads are located and partially constructed.

Plans and surveys are being pushed on the bob-sled run and the ski-trails. We expect to have the latter, along with the toboggan slides and skating pond, ready for use next winter.

The foregoing includes our major activities to date. Thanking you again for your interest in our progress, I remain,

Sincerely yours,
J. B. Schwerdt,
Project Superintendent.

4th Of July Celebration Dropped

AM. LEGION HAD PLANNED 3-DAY AFFAIR

A Fourth of July celebration was planned for Grayling and announced in the Avalanche last week, has been abandoned. It was to have been a three-day celebration—Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, and be sponsored by Grayling Post 106, American Legion.

On Monday night representatives of the Post appeared before the City Council requesting that the city appropriate the sum of $150.00 toward the expenses of putting on the celebration, and $100.00 toward paying the expenses of the Drum and Bugle Corps for attending the national Legion convention at Chicago next September.

With the sum of only $14,000 to be had from taxes for operating the city for a year, it was felt by the council members that the city would have to cut down on expenditures except for actual necessities. After considerable discussion, the Council voted to appropriate the sum of $100.00 to pay toward the expenses of the Drum and Bugle Corps at the Chicago convention, but did not appropriate the amount wanted for the 4th of July celebration.

It was the desire of the Legion post to conduct the July 4th celebration in order to bring people into Grayling, hoping to be able to make a little money from the celebration for the expense of the Chicago trip. Also to keep people in Grayling over the 4th and bring in outsiders for the benefit of local merchants.

We are sure it was only because of a shortage in money in the city's finances that prompted the Council to turn down the request.

The Legion committee had estimated that it would cost $600.00 to put on the celebration, and, with favorable weather conditions, and good attendance, that would help to pay for the costs. And with the appropriation requested from the city and about $450 pledged by local citizens and Chamber of Commerce and Isaac Walton League, that the cost of the celebration would be assured and the Legion not to take the chances of a large loss should adverse conditions bring that about. As the committee said, it was a gamble and meant a lot of hard work but they did not feel that the Legion post should take the entire risk of a financial loss.

Kiwanis Gov. Visits Grayling Club

ALSO DISTRICT SEC'Y. FORNEY CLEMENT

Grayling Kiwanis club was signally honored by a visit from Michigan District Governor Nels Knudsen, of Pontiac, and District Secretary Forney Clement of Ann Arbor, who dropped in at the meeting Wednesday. This was Gov. Knudsen's first visit to Grayling. The club sang "How Do You Do" for both visitors.

Other visitors were Frank Shipp, former lieutenant governor, and Kiwanians Merrick and Harold Calkins, all of Gaylord.

The visiting officials were treated to a plate of brook trout, complimentary by one of our local piscatorial enthusiasts.

Most anyone familiar with Scandinavian names, as are the people of Grayling, would readily guess that Gov. Knudsen was a Dane. The privilege of extending the club's official greeting and words of welcome to the Governor was conferred upon John Bruun who in perfect (?) Danish did the honors. Just what he said we don't know. Nor do we know what Gov. Knudsen said in reply. They may have been calling one another names, as far as most of the members of the club know, but the Governor seemed to be pleased at what was said. Of course the club members got a big laugh and had some witty remarks to make.

Secretary Clement complimented the club on its fine attendance record and upon the fine fellowship that is manifest among its members. He called attention to the annual convention of the Michigan clubs to be held in Charlevoix August 31st and September 1st and 2nd.

Nat. Log Const. Co. Doing Big Business

The National Log Construction Company are enjoying an exceptional run of business with the result that they are running full force at the Grayling plant as well as at their woods operation near Alpena.

During the last three week period in April, they sold and contracted to deliver eighteen Air-Lock Log buildings, four of these buildings being sold to Jack Wade to be erected at Lake Margrethe.

This is the first time in the history of the National Log Construction Company that they have had sufficient supply of raw material to allow them to increase production and this was made possible through their purchase of 9000 acres of timber near Alpena last fall. In line with their increased production they are now warranted to expand their advertising program with the result that the June editions of Field & Stream, Better Homes and Gardens, Sports Afield and Outdoors will carry their advertising. Also eight Sunday papers throughout the State are now carrying their ads and the company has just released new mailing literature in the form of a 16-page booklet.

Another new feature is an 84-page Plan Portfolio that they have ready for distribution which incorporates seventy-one floor plans and landscaped perspectives. This Portfolio carries descriptive copy, photographs and the ads of such firms as Detroit Steel Products Co., Gar Wood Industries, Inc., Bennett Fireplace Corp., McKinney Wrought Iron Hardware Co., Berry Bros., and Habitant Rustic Furniture Co.

Mrs. Tatro, Business Woman Dies

WAS PROPRIETOR OF SOUTH SIDE GROCERY

Mrs. Lottie Tatro, proprietor of the South Side grocery and a well known and estimable resident of Grayling for close to a quarter of a century, passed away at her home at 6:45 Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Tatro died following a lingering illness of two years duration. Three weeks ago she submitted to an operation at Mercy Hospital, but her illness was such that it was incurable. Ten days ago she asked that she be removed to her home and her wish was granted and there she was under the care of her nurse, Miss Sophia Cole, who devotedly administered her every want and made her as comfortable as possible in her remaining days.

Lottie Starrett was born in Kawkawlin, June 2, 1877, and her girlhood was spent there. In 1895 she was united in marriage to William Weaver and to the union three children were born, Clarence, Willard and Minard, the latter who is deceased. Mr. Weaver met a tragic death in 1900 in a dynamite explosion at the Ajax Dynamite factory at Kawkawlin; two other men were killed in the same accident.

In 1905 Mrs. Weaver was married to Marshall Atkinson and three children were born to this union Alex, Clara, and Edna. Residing in Kawkawlin and later in Wolverine, the Atkinson family came to Grayling in 1916 and bought the South Side grocery from H. Swaffield. Their daughter Edna died when 2 years old. Mr. Atkinson died in 1925. Mrs. Atkinson married again in 1930, this time to Fred Tatro of Detroit.

Mrs. Tatro was a very reliable business woman. She was very public-spirited in civic affairs or enterprises, always doing her part most willingly. She had enjoyed a fine grocery business through all the years, and had hosts of friends for she was known to every man, woman and child on the South side for her kindness and charity.

Mrs. Tatro was a member of the Methodist church and of the American Legion Auxiliary and enjoyed being a member of a neighborhood social club.

Funeral services will be held from the family home at 2:00 o'clock Friday afternoon, Rev. H. W. Kuhlman officiating, with interment in Elmwood cemetery. Grayling business places will be closed during the hours of the funeral as a token of respect to the deceased.

Surviving the deceased besides her husband are her three sons and one daughter, Clarence Weaver, Gaylord; Willard Harwood, Alex Atkinson and Mrs. Robert Sorenson, Grayling. Also the deceased's mother, Mrs. Margaret McDonald, of Kawkawlin, who is 86 years old. The latter, owing to illness, will not be able to be in attendance at the funeral. Also there are 11 grandchildren, one sister Mrs. Daisy Harwood, Kawkawlin, and two brothers, Edward and William Starrett of Bay City.

Lansing—Two of the legislators' anti-boss moves appear to be fizzling out.

Investigators have failed to uncover anything about Frank McKay that faintly resembles grand jury evidence. The preliminary report by Attorney General Thomas Read said the Grand Rapids millionaire Republican had committed no legal wrong in his fee dealings for the Port Huron bridge bonds. Even Governor Dickinson graciously accepted the finding.

The anti-Barnard bill, proposing the holding of separate congressional conventions in Wayne county instead of one county session, is badly snagged in the Senate where the counting of noses indicates an even deadlock.

Back of the cooling off of the anti-boss ardor is a growing suspicion among Republican legislators that the purge may backfire, possibly splitting the administration into two armed camps, unless someone can prove to a jury that Messrs. McKay and Barnard "did us wrong."

Furthermore, adjournment is due in a few weeks.

Bogey Reputations

The chief criticism against the two Republican leaders is that they are political autocrats who dictate convention choices.

McKay and Barnard are democrats in the sense that they believe in the democratic form of government. Yet both men tell their associates that democracy would fail if it lacked leaders who had the ability to make wise decisions. Otherwise, the masses would be swayed by demagogues.

It is a curious throw-back to the principles of the early federalists, led by Alexander Hamilton, who distrusted the ability of the common people to govern themselves.

As for Barnard, this Wayne county leader is said to have refused nominations for judgeships, state offices and appointments, and otherwise has kept with political contractors of any kind. An admirer of Theodore Roosevelt, a personal friend of young "Teddy" and a first cousin of Col. Frank Knox, Barnard's personal life is a bit unusual. He does not smoke. A bachelor, he is never seen in company of women other than his sister. He has an outright phobia of being "framed" by his enemies.

The general indictment of Barnard is that he is the political boss of the Republican party in Wayne County.

Primary Remedy

Before the State senate is a bill just passed by the House, which would widen the scope of the September primary to include all four major offices—secretary of state, attorney general, treasurer and auditor general. It is popularly labeled as an "anti-boss" move.

Party nominees for governor and lieutenant-governor are now selected by primary votes. This law was adopted by the Michigan legislature in 1889 and its constitutionality was confirmed by the state supreme court.

Governor Edwin B. Winans in 1891, speaking of ballot reform, declared that "the booth feature gives every voter an opportunity to be alone with his ballot, and absolute secrecy is the best guaranty of purity in elections."

Governor Hazen Pingree said in 1897: "If the people make mistakes, they alone are to blame. The direct vote and the Australian ballot system is of less cost to the people than the convention system. Conventions should be abolished. I would advocate the extension of the principle of direct nomination to all the offices in the state from Governor down, including judicial officials as well."

Primary Praised, Criticized

The ardor of other governors for the primary, as a general cure for boss control, continued in Michigan.

The records show that Governor Aaron T. Bliss said in 1902: "I am one of those who hold that from the caucus or the primaries to the election polls, the people should have unrestricted freedom of choice, believing that in this way will the largest possible good be accomplished."

Interestingly enough, the house primary bill last week was opposed chiefly by two young Republican legislators—Rep. F. Jack Neller of Battle Creek and Rep. Robert N. Sawyer of Monroe who argued that the direct primary tended to break down party responsibility.

Representative Neller is a member of the anti-McKay investigating committee of the House.

What Other States Do

Nomination for all major state offices by direct primary is in vogue in many states including the following:

Maryland since 1908, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, New Mexico effective in 1940, Kansas, Mississippi, Georgia, Nebraska, West Virginia, Utah since 1937, Maine, Kentucky, Vermont, Montana, Wyoming, Nevada, Arkansas, Washington, North Carolina, New Jersey, North Dakota, Iowa, Virginia, Illinois, Oregon, Oklahoma, New York and Ohio.

A questionnaire to attorney generals in other states sent by Rep. Elton R. Eaton of Plymouth, revealed that primaries are favored over conventions in a majority of the states. While the replies were generally sympathetic to the primary system, occasional notes of doubt were expressed as in the following reply from Richard C. Hunter, attorney general of Nebraska:

"The practical result of the primary law in Nebraska has been to nominate persons for public office as party candidates who are not the choice of the party and in a majority of cases who are not the choice of a substantial number of voters."

In Idaho the legislature thought it could save expense of printing ballots by combining both primary tickets on one ballot. J. W. Taylor, attorney general, observed: "The result was that the Republicans voted the Democratic ticket and nominated the weakest candidate for governor on the Democratic ticket, and later defeated him in the general election."

New Taxes Not Favored

Balancing of the state budget at around $102,000,000 without "new taxes, script of bond issues to solve any emergency that may arise" can be accomplished in the opinion of Budget Director Grover C. Dillman, Auditor General Vernon J. Brown and Treasurer Miller Dunckel by trimming expenses to meet anticipated revenues.

In a joint statement the three officials said: "The daily statement of April 24 shows that the State has $9,280,547.69 on hand in its active cash accounts. A payroll of approximately $1,000,000 must be met on May 1 and approximately $1,000,000 on May 15. Also the second one-half of the April school allocation of $6,300,000 will be due on May 15. These payments will be met promptly as well as other accruing warrants, because of an anticipated receipt of $4,400,000 sales-tax revenue by May 15."

The proverbial proof of the pudding, as far as the budget is concerned, will be the fate of pressure demands for state aid. Again doing the unheard of, Governor Luren D. Dickinson asked the people of Michigan to pray on Sunday (April 30) that the legislature might resist powerful lobbies. "Will the members of the Legislature be overwhelmed, lack courage to face the facts and stand for the poor taxpayers of the state, as has been the case so many times in the past," asked the Governor.

Politicians were flabbergasted. Michigan's colorful "Coolidge" struck a new note for economy.

The big handicap, of course, is that we are all for economy providing it is at the other fellow's expense and doesn't step on our toes. The legislature has a difficult choice to make.

SCHOOL NEWS

Monday a movie was shown to the Seniors, in technicolor, by a representative of Grand Rapids College. The film included shots at Holland's Tulip Festival, on Isle Royale, in Mason County, in the cherry orchards around Traverse City, as well as various other points of interest about the state. The film ran for a forty-five minute period and the Seniors enjoyed the presentation. On Tuesday the Lewis-Chapin School of Traverse City sent their annual representative, who featured a novel arrangement of Professor Quiz. Einer Tahvonen, with 36 out of a possible 40, equalled the best mark made by any senior in twenty-four schools visited by Mr. Spiess. Only two such scores have been made.

The American Automobile Association sent in a movie on safety last week which was shown by Mr. Parkin to all members of the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades. The total audience was upwards of two hundred. The films were well worth while and the grade pupils enjoyed them. This is the third movie shown for the grade pupils recently and all the films have been time well spent.

With the Albion College band project carried through to a successful conclusion, the Grayling High School band turned its attention to other activities. The cooking school, which was run by the Michigan Bakeries and backed by local agents, presented an opportunity to the band, for the total admission charges were given to the band.

On May 17th the Grayling band and vocal musical organizations will present a concert of their own, the proceeds of which will be devoted to music in the schools. It is hoped that people will respond to this as they did to the college band project.

Next year's plans give music an increasingly large place in the program of the school.

Recently the basketball teams of Grayling High school, with their coach Mr. Cornell and his assistant Leo Lovely, were the theatre guests of Mr. George Olson. All enjoyed the picture "Stagecoach" very much. Many thanks are due Mr. Olson for extending this courtesy.

Friday, April 29th, the Seniors were hosts to the upper six grades at a party held in the gymnasium. Dancing was the order of the evening and nearly 75 students voted the party a decided success.

Many thanks are due Mr. Don Reynolds for allowing the students the use of his radio-phonograph.

This summer for the first time in several years quite a few of the high school boys are planning to attend the Citizens Military Training camp at Fort Brady, located at Sault Ste. Marie.

The quota for Grayling is five but this has already been over-subscribed and indications are that nearly twice that number will attend from Grayling.

Ladies Golf Club

The Ladies Auxiliary enjoyed a very pleasant pot luck luncheon at the club house Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. A. J. Joseph, president of the club, presided at the business session. After the reading of the by-laws, the house committee reported on the estimates for the new kitchen. The club voted to accept the estimate and work will start soon.

The club is in need of a second-hand sink and wish that anyone having one for sale would see Mrs. C. G. Clippert or Mrs. Oscar Hanson.

Sunday, May 7th, the gentlemen and ladies will hold a pot-luck dinner at 1:30 o'clock. Everyone come.

Apple Group Big Family
It's a big family, the apple group. It traces its origin up the same family tree as the rose. It has more than 1,000 members, 100 of which are commercially valuable. The champ "big apple" was one that sold for $70 in London in 1913. It weighed more than two pounds.

Well Known Resident Passed Away

Friends of Clarence Ingalls will be sorry to learn of his sudden death on Wednesday morning, May 3. He was found dead in bed by his son Herman, as he tried to awaken him in the morning.

Clarence DeVere Ingalls, age 70 years, was born April 3, 1869, in Antrim county, near Charlevoix, Mich. On October 18, 1905 he was united in marriage at Traverse City, and to this union 9 children were born. In 1920 Mr. Ingalls moved his family from East Jordan to Grayling where they have since made their home. He held the position of conductor on the D. & C. railroad for six years, when he was transferred to the M.C.R.R., and worked on the Grayling to Mackinaw run as freight agent and brakeman until 1930 when he was laid off owing to reduction of forces. Up until a year ago he has worked in Marquette.

Mr. Ingalls was a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen for many years, and he had many friends in Grayling who will mourn his departure.

He leaves to survive him, besides his widow, five sons, Clarence, of Flint; Ora, Frederick, Herman, and Thomas of Grayling, and four daughters, Mrs. Chas. Hanover, Mrs. Walter LaMotte, Ella Mae, and Monola Joyce, of Grayling. Also two sisters, Mrs. W. Waffol, of Mackinaw City, and Mrs. E. Kerry of Central Lake, and one brother, William of Mackinaw City and 13 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held from the Sorenson Funeral Home Friday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock with interment in Elmwood cemetery. Rev. Floyd Barnes will officiate.

ORGANIZE GIRL SCOUT TROOP

Forty girls met at the home of Miss Ruth Kuhlman last Monday evening to make plans for organizing a Grayling Girl Scout Troop. Miss Georgiana Olson, who is the leader, opened the meeting by giving the girls a brief outline of what requirements are necessary to become a Tenderfoot Scout.

All the girls learned the Scout sign, motto, slogan, salute, and Scout handshake. Miss Ruth Kuhlman, assistant leader, showed the girls the different knots which every girl Scout must know. Plans were made for the next meeting to be held Monday evening, May 8.

For our next meeting we are all going on a weiner roast and all the girls hope to learn more Girl Scout ways of doing things.

All girls, ages ten to fourteen, are eligible to belong to the Girl Scout Troop. The Scout program includes homemaking, community life, nature, out-of-doors, international friendship, dramatics, arts and crafts, music, dancing, health and safety, sports and games. Each girl, in accordance with her own development, has opportunities to explore these fields. And they do!

Girl Scouting means many things. Good Girl Scouts are trained to be more responsive and responsible citizens. Girl Scouts help their community in many ways. Let's all take an interest in the activities of our new Scout organization. Help them along. Give them a little encouragement and then watch and see just how they accomplish things.

The Girl Scout program is made for girls from the age of seven years up. They are divided though, into Brownie Scouts (7 to 10 yrs.), Girl Scouts (10 to 14 yrs.), and Senior Scouts (14 to 18 yrs.). The troop now started is for the age group from 10 to 14 years. After this troop is organized and well established we will try to broaden our program so that any girl 7 years or over may have the opportunity to take up the Scout program. We want every girl to have the privilege to be a Girl Scout.

The Michelson Memorial Church is sponsoring our Girl Scout organization. I repeat again, "Let's give them a boost of encouragement so that they will be able to do things and show us a few things."

Miss Ruth Kuhlman,
Assistant Leader.

CHILD HEALTH

Child Health Day,
May 1, 1939, centers attention of the U. S. on its public school health program.

In Miami, Fla., an unusually broad student health program is followed. Outdoor classes form an important part of the program, designed to benefit the transient student, of which Florida has many. After enrolling Johnny receives a general check-up from a physician.

Weights of pupils are kept carefully from the time they enroll until the term ends, and their heights, too, are registered on charts sent to parents. Dental hygiene is taught by aid of charts, and children are closely examined for foot defects.

"Say 'Ah' now," urges the doctor, as he thoroughly examines the tonsils of all students registered. Health data is carefully compiled for reference purposes.

At recess time the younger pupils are anxious to receive their Florida orange juice or milk. This is supplied free of charge.

Athletics are considered fine, but not for weak hearts. A physician examines the "pumps" of the youngsters before they are allowed to engage in any strenuous sport on the school playground. Officials say that early training causes children to be "health conscious" in later years, and for that reason is an invaluable asset to the nation as a whole.

Boys Share In Scholastic Honors

Scholastic honors for the Class of 1939 were announced this week. Top rank as Valedictorian goes to Emil Tahvonen, with Kenneth Peterson as Salutatorian. Both of these young men win their honors through consistently high marks maintained over the four year course.

With a record of 83 honor points out of a possible 84 Emil graduates with one of the finest records ever made in the local school. He has only one mark not of "A" rank. Kenneth has 78 honor points out of a possible 84, and takes second place in the class, which numbers thirty-two. They will all receive their diplomas with exercises in the school auditorium on the night of June 8.

Girls have monopolized the scholastic laurels in Grayling. For the past nine years eighteen awards have been made and girls have topped fourteen of them. In 1932 William Foley was first in his class, and in 1936 Clyde Borchers finished second. This year adds two more boys to the list.

Paramount to the features entering into the celebration of the opening of Shoppenagons Inn Thursday was the banquet and program in the evening. By spreading tables in the dining room and lobby with just enough aisle room for serving they were able to seat 173 guests. At six o'clock with the members of Bay City Board of Commerce in advance, the company marched from the Grayling Social Club rooms to the hotel. Clark's orchestra was playing in the ladies room during the meal. J. Fred Alexander sang several pleasing solos. Thorwald W. Hanson, as toastmaster, opened the program by introducing Mayor Hans Petersen, who in behalf of the people of Grayling welcomed the visitors in a most cordial manner to Grayling. Mayor F. P. S. Kelton, of Bay City, Mr. O. E. Sovereign, president of the Bay City Board of Commerce, C. T. Clark, general manager of the Bay City and Grayling DuPont plants, and M. A. To Make Kite Flying Safe

Observance of a few simple safety rules for kite flying will avoid possible dangers for children, according to D. E. Sweeney, manager for the Michigan Public Service Company in this territory.

"The coming of spring brings the advent of the kite flying season, and because of some hazards in this sport, the Michigan Public Service Company is joining other electric, telephone and telegraph companies throughout the country in warning children to keep their kites away from overhead lines.

"Kites should be flown only in open spaces where there is no likelihood of their coming in contact with electric lines. Especial care should be exercised in choosing the spot, for it should be remembered that the kite string is at an angle and may pass over electric lines a long distance away, perhaps out of sight.

"If a kite should become entangled in electric wires, children should not pull it or make any attempt to remove it. Under no circumstances should they climb a pole and try to bring down the kite. The proper procedure is to call the electric company, telephone company or telegraph company to which the wires belong, and linemen with proper equipment will be sent to take the kite from the lines.

"It is unsafe for children to pull down a kite from electric lines, because in so doing the wires may be pulled together, causing a short circuit. It is possible in such cases that the wires may break and fall to the ground, causing serious injury to anyone who may be near.

"Construction of the kite should measure up to safety standards also. Kites should NEVER have wire frames. No metal or metallized cord should be used. It is dangerous to make kite strings of wire, tinsel cord or any cord with metal strands in it because such materials are conductors of electricity. It is also important to remember that the kite cord should be kept off the ground where there is any possibility of it becoming damp. A wet kite cord becomes a conductor of electricity when it touches an electric wire.

"Kite flying is a fine sport and is entirely safe for children when they fly a properly-made kite in an open space away from electric wires. The observance of these few safety suggestions will not detract from the fun and may prevent accidents."

Speed of Fly's, Bee's Wing
